

Thanks a million!

NHS@60 Birthday card competition

In July this year the NHS will be 60 years old - a huge achievement and a real lifeline to generations of families living in and around Bassetlaw.

To help say 'thank you' to the NHS and all the staff who work in it - from nurses and doctors through to the ambulance drivers and cleaners who keep it all going - I want you to help design a card to say - Happy Birthday to our NHS in Bassetlaw.

Help make a card to say thank you to our local health services

How to enter the competition

- The competition is open to all children who live in Bassetlaw. There will be a runner up from each school and an overall winner in Bassetlaw.
- You must paint, draw or make a card to say 'thank you' to the NHS for all the care, help and support it gives to our local community
- Use your imagination to make a card that says how the NHS has helped you and your family - using whatever materials you wish to.
- Send in your card by the closing date of Friday 1st August.

The competition will be judged by our panel including John Mann MP and local health staff.

Entries should be sent to: 68a Carlton Road, Worksop, Nottinghamshire S80 1PH. Please state the name, age of the applicant with the name of school, an organisation or the name and contact number for a parent/guardian for each entry .

Dear friends

Thanks a million - help say thank you to the NHS on its 60th birthday

This summer the NHS will celebrate its 60th birthday.

The NHS has provided generations of care to local families and helped make a real difference to people's lives. In a way, we've all grown up with the NHS and it is hard to imagine a world without it.

To help celebrate this achievement and say 'thank you' to all the dedicated and hard working staff across our health services, I have launched a competition to encourage local children to make a birthday card for the NHS at 60.

The NHS was set up in 1948 by the Government. At its heart was the promise that every single person is entitled to the best possible care and treatment regardless of wealth. Today, these principles continue to make the NHS the fairest and best health service in the world.

Of course, things need to continue improving - but where would we be without the nurses, doctors, ambulance teams, health specialists and support staff who keep all our families on the mend?

So, why not take part yourself or encourage your children or pupils to join in my competition and help say thank you to our local health service. The winning card will be presented to NHS staff in Bassetlaw. Together, lets all say: we're proud of the NHS.

With best wishes

John Mann MP
